Interview With Mayor Andy Berke

We can't continue to further nurture neglect and not own up to our own failures as a race!!! Neither can we continue to point the blame at Mayor Berke and President Obama!!! Some of the black leadership in Chattanooga have failed us. We trusted you, we believed you had our best interest at heart! You placated us to the hilt!! Now look at our community!!!!!! From now on; it's God's way or the highway!!! Proverbs 8 - Breaking The Cycle

The Bureau of Labor Statistics: In some parts of our city, the unemployment rate is as high as 29%. Time to break the cycle of chronic unemployment!

With a church in every neighborhood, and one on practically every corner, 42% of all children in Chattanooga live in poverty. What about their spiritual condition? If we don't reach out to them, the streets will! - Breaking The Cycle – with Chattanooga Mayor Andy Burke

Interview With Judge Philyaw

Yesterday we learned a great deal about the Juvenile Court via Juvenile Judge Rob Philyaw on 96.1 The BEAT & Breaking The Cycle. Also, Judge Philyaw gave a $50 gift card towards the 3 heaters we need for 3 Boynton Apts residents. We need still need your contributions towards the heaters. Thank you Judge!! — with Rob Philyaw.

Prayer Vigil this Saturday Wheeler Homes 12-2PM free food as long as it lasts for the kids!!!! It's pass time to break the cycle of poverty, spiritual bondage, violence, incarceration, domestic violence!

The Warrior Project...it's a movement!!

Breaking The Cycle, Transition Ministry and UniverSoul Promotions are partnering to ascertain the real needs of the Emma Wheeler Homes residents. After putting up the basketball goal nets, I knew GOD wanted us to do more! Beginning June 21st, we'll feed the children, meet the residents and, assess what are their basic needs of our brothers and sisters. With over 700 social services in this area, the basic needs will be met with the help from GOD!

Today, we marched from McCallie Ave to the Orchard Park S.D.A church for a purpose; Stop the Violence!" Sponsored by Loving My Community

Discussing jobs, economics and education with Dr. Elonora Woods of the N.A.A.C.P.

Venus Mathews, a case worker of domestic violence discussing domestic violence!

This past weekend in Wheeler Homes, we meet over 20 young men looking for guidance, hope and somebody to follow. To make matters worse, the young man in the pic, wanted to play basketball on a dilapidated ball court. He left discouraged because of its condition. Wouldn't we rather have our youth shooting hoops instead of bullets? Look at the condition of the basketball goal. We will not rest until we find out who WILL replace these dilapidated goals with new ones. Our city is better than this!!! Our young people deserve better!!! Breaking The Cycle

Getting tougher on crime will not solve the crime dilemma in Chattanooga. It begins with a transformation of a man's mind, the healing of the wounded spirit of a man. Even if you take a pig out of his environment, he'll still remain a pig. Transform the way he thinks, he won't live the same ever again. Taking a thug out of the "hood" is environmental migration; they'll still be prone to wonder for a similar "hood" to get use to.

Black Criminal RoundUp. It has to stop! On Breaking The Cycle

The Bureau of Labor Statistics: In some parts of our city, the unemployment rate is as high as 29%. Over 75 shootings have taken place!! It is pass time to break the cycle of chronic unemployment! More of our younger black men are turning to crime; there is a reason!! More women are falling into violence for a reason! Breaking The Cycle along with ReDirect, and others to be announced, is announcing a community-wide movement, "From Poverty to Prosperity." This movement's objective is to engage, prepare, enlighten and empower individuals who need: legal advice, expungement of criminal records, diversity coping skills, specific job search skills, etc and other means of not only facing the challenges of finding a job, but perhaps a career. Coming to: the College Hill Courts, East Lake, Wheeler Homes housing areas, and other communities to be announced as well as dates and times. We will discuss this movement every Sunday morn. On Breaking The Cycle
